- The Company enters the second half of 2026 with a healthy order book and active sales pipeline, and is focused on securing additional workforce housing business, including opportunities tied to data center construction projects.

Kenneth E. Shipley, Chief Executive Officer, stated: “This was a great quarter for Legacy — record net income, a strong backlog, and the first deliveries under our marquee 2026 workforce housing order. Our sales team keeps raising its game, bringing in more and higher-quality leads than ever, and that momentum gives me real confidence heading into the second half. On a personal note, Curt Hodgson and I started this company together and built it side by side all the way to going public. I couldn’t be prouder that, in all those years, Legacy has never had a losing quarter. Curt retired in July, and a quarter like this feels like a fitting tribute to everything we built together. I’m grateful to him, and excited about what’s ahead.”
